

The Word Guild Is Pleased to Announce
The 2020 Word Awards Winner's List
Honouring the Best of Canadian Christian Writing from 2019

TORONTO, ON — On Saturday, June 13, 2020 at 7pm Eastern Standard Time, The Word Guild held their 32nd Annual Awards presentation, honouring Canadian Christian literary excellence. The show was co-hosted by Soul H₂O Host, author, blogger and awards coordinator, Sherry Stahl alongside best-selling author, speaker and missionary, Joe Amaral. Board Chair David Kitz welcomed everyone and opened the ceremonies in prayer. Sponsors graciously helped broadcast the news and announced winners in their respective awards classes.

Due to Covid-19 restrictions, the annual Gala was cancelled, so the 2020 Celebration was a pre-recorded video, streaming through Facebook and YouTube. This was the first time in 32 years that winners could hear their names called as winners from sea to shining sea! What some feared to be a negative, proved to be a huge success! The online platform provided greater promotion for Canadian Christian writers featured on the list. People watched across our great nation around the globe. Many continue to view and share the recording through the two social media platforms and a link on The Word Guild website finalist page.

“This year’s awards celebration was an amazing event. Canadians globally cheered on their favourite authors from the comfort of their own home”, said Stahl.

This year’s celebration was a great time to reflect on the accomplishments of many writers in the past year. Parties were held around the globe as one scholarship and 58 awards were given out in 56 categories from the short list of novelists, bloggers, columnists, apologists, theologians, and songwriters reaching both Christian and mainstream audiences.

Book winners ranged from self-published, to co-publishing, to traditional with publishing house names like Castle Quay Books, Harvest House, Word Alive Press, InterVarsity Press, B&H Publishing and Thomas Nelson. Articles were written in the smallest of local publications to national newspapers and magazines like Testimony, Christian Courier, Crux, Faith Today, or The Light Magazine.

Janet Surette was this year’s big winner! She impressively took home three wins in The 2020 Word Awards Celebration! Janet graciously received the largest literary prize in Canada for Christians with the Grace Irwin Best Canadian Book Award... along with a win for her book’s category and the Best Canadian Book Cover Award. Newcomer Melanie Stevenson of Cambridge, ON took home the Best Canadian New Author Award. Melanie published two books in her debut year to the publishing world. Two books, three nominations on the shortlist and two award wins. What an entry into the literary world!

Amazingly, seven writers took home two winning awards. They were Julia Friesen, Paul C. Breen, Eleanor Bertin, Carolyn Arends, Craig Macartney, Terrie Todd, Melanie Stevenson and Susan Doherty.

A heartfelt tribute was given in honour of Michael D. O’Brien as the recipient of the Castle Quay Books sponsored, Leslie K. Tarr Lifetime Achievement Award. As a survivor of Residential School living, O’Brien overcame to become an author, magazine editor, essayist, artist, and a well-known lecturer on faith and culture.

During the evening, Ruth Coghill and Sara Davison were honoured for excellence in social justice issues writing with The Debra Fieguth Award. Former awards winner Preston Pouteaux took home the Harvey/Mackey New Journalist Award. The 4th Annual Castle Quay Best New Canadian Manuscript award went to Larry McCloskey of Ottawa, ON with a prize package including publication of his unpublished manuscript by Castle Quay Books.
