September 19, 2023

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MARKHAM, ON – The Word Guild was pleased to host our 35th annual awards event on Saturday, Sept. 16, in honour of our incredibly talented Canadian writers who are Christian. Co-hosted by Heather Stuart and Bill Fledderus, the event celebrated the power of the written word and excellence in Christian writing. The event, which took place online for the fourth consecutive year, recognized unpublished work by new writers as well as work published in 2022 for both Christian and mainstream audiences.

Winners received awards in over 60 genres and categories including books, articles, novellas, short stories, song lyrics and more. In addition, winners were also announced for several specialty awards, including for Indigenous Writers, Writers of Colour, The Harvey/Mackey New Journalism Award, The Debra Fieguth Social Justice Award, and the Leslie K. Tarr Lifetime Achievement Award.

This year we chose two Best books: In Good Time: 8 Habits for Reimagining Productivity, Resisting Hurry, and Practicing Peace by Jen Pollock Michel: took the honours as Best Non-Fiction book and Lilly's Promise by Terrie Todd Best Fiction book.

A highlight of the evening included the formal recognition of Flyn Ritchie, as the recipient of this year's Leslie K. Tarr Lifetime Achievement Award. We were pleased to welcome new winners as well as a number of returning writers.

"There are so many wonderful Christian writers in our country and we need to celebrate them," said David Kitz, Chair of the Board of The Word Guild.

Congratulations to The Word Award winners for 2023.
